CLAY QUARTER HORSES RANCH Select Sale

Dan, Colleen, Ali, Quinn & Von Mullin
Cartwright, MB
www.clayranch.ca

Family-owned and operated, Clay Ranch is a working ranch that offers a variety of agricultural products, services and experiences, with a western flair. By offering working quarter horses, alpacas, sheep, commercial meat goats, educational ranch programs, and more, the Mullin family values a lifestyle where work and play blend easily together.

From the beginning, their main focus has been breeding and training high-quality quarter horses. While much has changed in the equine industry, their mission has remained constant: to produce athletes with good conformation, versatility and, above all, trainability.

Through working with their own horses, they understand the value of a willing mind and the impact it has on the progress and success you achieve with your equine partner.

Personal horseback experiences working on the ranch and competing in the arena have granted the Mullins a unique perspective in building their successful program.

Muy Bueno Pepto

2005 - 2024

Muy Bueno Pepto played an integral role in our breeding program for nearly 20 years and was part of our family. Sadly, we laid him to rest earlier this year. We miss him dearly, but we know his legacy will live on through his offspring, including his daughters that we have in our breeding program today.

Rest in peace, Blue.

The Mullin Family

Cowhorse, reining, roping, trail, english pleasure, ranching, barrel racing, dressage... Muy Bueno Pepto babies can do it all and do it well. Through the years, this Clay Ranch stallion has crossed on a variety of mares and produced consistent results: flashy babies with a desire to learn and to work closely with people. Like the stallion himself, these foals are tremendously agreeable and athletic, with personalities that make them real partners.

Muy Bueno Pepto first made the trek from Texas to Manitoba early in his two-year-old year and called Clay Ranch for the rest of his life. A paternal grandson of the renowned Peptoboonsmal ($28+ million dollar sire), Muy Bueno Pepto is by NCHA money-earning sire, Little Peptoroani. On the bottom side, his dam Four Lynx Poke boasts a classic foundation quarter horse pedigree, with names like Poco Bueno, King, Three Bars, Doc Bar and Moon Deck scattered throughout. This combination of modern-day performance horses with old-time legends is a large part of what Clay Ranch attributes Blue's versatility and staying power to. Unshown due to an unfortunate injury in his youth, Muy Bueno Pepto was ridden and trained for a short time in the cowhorse arena, where his trainer was blown away by his combination of trainability and athletic ability. The team at Clay Ranch is forever grateful to have incorporated "Blue" into their program—resulting in a career as a great sire—and to have him pass along those traits to generations of both saddle horses and broodmares that are present on the ranch today.

Bringing a timeless “running quarter horse” pedigree to the table, Eye Fly Till Dawn is an ideal complement to the ranch-horse and cow-horse style broodmares that Clay Ranch has celebrated over the years. Originally purchased to ‘fill a gap’ in their program after the loss of another stallion, this tall grey stud affectionately known as “Flyer” has done much more than that. Not only has he brought his height, frame and massive stride that they had hoped for, but has also established himself as a sire of athletes, crossing on Clay Ranch’s foundation-style mares to produce big-bodied and talented offspring.

If the folks at Clay Ranch were ever concerned about these speed-based bloodlines causing Flyer’s babies to be hot-headed or high-strung, they need not have worried! Just like their sire, his foals are consistently some of the most laid-back ones in the pasture—and if you are familiar with the breeding program, you know that is saying something! At Clay Ranch, a very high emphasis is placed on trainability, favouring horses that have an agreeable temperament to go along with their athletic ability. Even with their cool, calm and collected nature, Flyer’s offspring are not to be underestimated as competitors. Having been very successful in his own short racing career with previous owners, Flyer passes on his explosive speed and easy, ground-covering stride to the next generation. It’s been found that whether you want to go fast or you want to go slow, there is a Flyer foal that will suit your preferences.

This home-raised stallion is an ideal merge of Clay Ranch's classic, ranch-horse breeding with arena performance horses. DC JacSkipsEasy's sire, Little Peppy Jac, was shown in the reining pen himself, winning bronzes and becoming known as 'the one with the mega stop' before transitioning into a role as a breeding stallion for Clay Ranch. He sired many successful ranch horses, reiners and rodeo horses, and ultimately became a cornerstone of the program we know today. On the dam side, the great mare Wakopa Skip Easy was herself a representation of many years of calculated breeding by Dan's uncle, Larry Hicks. Larry and his breeding program were the original inspiration for Dan to get involved in horses, so it was incredibly fitting that Wakopa Skip Easy became one of the most influential broodmares Clay Ranch saw in the early years of their program, as she produced great using horses year after year. With this pedigree behind him, DC JacSkipsEasy is notably a maternal half-brother to Ali's horse, DC Hot Foot Poco and a paternal half-brother to Quinn's horse, DC Dusky Jac, both of which were champion rodeo horses at the high school and college levels.

Living up to his family legacy, DC JacSkipsEasy has quickly proven his own merits as a sire. Babies by "Jacson" are consistently strong, solid-bodied foals with good leg and bone underneath them. They are quiet-minded and trainable, with loads of talent, grit, and ability.

Good conformation, a quiet mind, and a high-end performance pedigree come together in DC Red Blue N Smart, the youngest of Clay Ranch's breeding stallions. Known around the ranch as "Chic," this attractive stud is a product of Dan's purposeful breeding choices. Years ago, opportunity to own the mare Ms Jacq Blue O Lena presented itself, and with bloodlines proven in the show pen and as breeding stock, she was a great fit for Clay Ranch. Her sire, Echo Country O Lea, was an exceedingly successful competitor in the cutting pens of the Canadian prairies. On her maternal side was a talented daughter of the great Dolls Union Jac, who was familiar to Clay Ranch through their ownership of another stallion, Little Peppy Jac. The mare Portent Blue was an athlete in her own right, and rewarded for her skills in the reining arena.

The top side of DC Red Blue N Smart features DA Red Chic, an own son of Smart Chic Olena. Dan opted to cross the proven broodmare, Ms Jacq Blue O Lena, with this bloodline, and the result was DC Red Blue N Smart. Right away Dan expressed, "I don't know if we need another stud, but somebody needs to breed with this guy!" Fortunately, Clay Ranch was able to create a spot in the lineup for Chic, and he has been proving himself as a sire who passes on his solid frame, big muscling, alertness, and inquisitive nature.
